DETAILED ACTION

Applicants response filed May 5, 2009 has been received and entered in the application.

Upon further reconsideration, the lack of unity presented in the previous office action dated April 3, 2009 is withdrawn and the following new lack of unity applies.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-9 and 15, drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 9).

Group II, claim(s) 1-8, 10 and 15, drawn to drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 10).

Group III, claim(s) 1-8, 11 and 15, drawn to drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 11).

Group IV, claim(s) 1-8, 12 and 15, drawn to drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 12).

Group V, claim(s) 1-8, 13 and 15, drawn to drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 13).

Group VI, claim(s) 1-8, 14 and 15, drawn to drawn to a method for treating a patient suffering from a disease with a LXR modulator (as shown in instant claim 14).

The inventions listed as Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the compounds of instant claims 9-14 are different LXR modulators which may have different possible divergent variable core structures encompassed within the genera of LXR represents different special technical features (i.e. each group of core structures represents a different special technical feature)..

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A) Diseases (e.g. stroke, Alzheimer's disease, fronto-temporal dementias, etc)
(see claims 1, 5 and 7, 8)

2) LXR Modulator (see claims 1-15) (applicants are further required to provide a structure and chemical name for specific group elected).

3) LXR Agonist (see claim 4).

4) LXR Antagonist (see Claim 4).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 1, 5, 7 and 8 for the various diseases.
Claims 1-15 for the various LXR modulators.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-8.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

1) The various diseases have different etiologies and require different treatments and different regimens.

2) The LXR modulators have possible divergent variable core structures encompassed within the genera of LXR represents different special technical features (i.e. each group of core structures represents a different special technical feature). Applicants are required to submit a name and structure of particular LXR modular.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
